Prob. Ptln. Mader

Ptln. Mader has been now been through a full turn rotation of 1st, 2nd, and 3rd watch in the FTO Program. Prob. Ptln. Mader has continued to improve as a patrolman. Prob. Ptln. Mader has picked up the task that patrolman do on a daily basis. Prob. Ptln. Mader has done reports from city and state accident reports, arrest reports, and incident reports. Prob. Ptln. Mader has also typed up city and state complainants for different types of crimes. Prob. Ptln. Mader has obtained statements and knows how to fill out a CFI when it comes to victims wanting to press charges. Prob. Ptln. Mader takes notes on calls and shows improvement in gathering information, such as names, dates of birth, etc. Prob. Ptln. Mader is not afraid to jump in on calls and being the contact officer. When it comes to officer safety, Prob. Ptln. Mader knows the importance in all different situations, and knows to always have a fellow officers back. Prob. Ptln. Mader is not afraid to ask question if he doesn't know what to do and wants to improve in the duties as a patrolman. Prob. Ptln. Mader also helps out whenever there is an arrest on station and gets along with everyone on Sgt. [REDACTED] crew. Prob. Ptln. Mader worked trained with myself, Ptln. [REDACTED] and Ptln. [REDACTED] on conducting mock traffic stops. While doing the mock traffic stops Prob. Ptln. [REDACTED] was not afraid to ask questions and learn how to conduct traffic stops. Myself, Ptln. [REDACTED] and Ptln. [REDACTED] threw out different scenarios and Prob. Ptln. Mader handled them all pretty good.

Prob. Ptln. Mader can improve on a few areas during his time in the FTO program. Prob. Ptln. Mader needs to become more confrontable talking on the radio and learning the 10 codes that we use on a daily shift. Prob. Ptln. Mader knows a lot of the main streets and the streets that officers are always on, but he needs to take more time in learning a lot of the side streets and patrol neighborhoods to get more familiar. When it comes to writing out a citation Prob. Ptln. Mader could be a little bit faster when it comes to writing one out, which that will come with experience. Prob. Ptln. Mader is not afraid to jump in on calls but he could improve on speaking to people and learning how to ask the right questions.

Since completing a full turn rotation of all three turns in my opinion Prob. Ptln. Mader is continually progressing in the FTO program. I believe Prob. Ptln. Mader is right where he needs to be in the FTO program and will continue to progress as time goes on. As time goes on I will continue to step back and let Prob. Ptln. Mader be the contact officer, and let him take care of all the calls and paperwork, but also be there when I am needed.
